Privacy Statement

- UAMS AHEC-SW Library's web site does not automatically collect user information. User supplied information is collected and recorded through e-mails and internet forms. Information supplied is used to process and track interlibrary loan requests, comments, suggestions, and medical literature searches, so that the library may provide information and results to the user.
- User information is strictly confidential. User information is available only to library staff and qualified personnel for operational purposes. User information will not be sold or made available to sources or individuals outside UAMS Library systems.
- User ID and user passwords maintained by UAMS AHEC-SW are confidential and will not be available to any company or person outside of UAMS for any reason whatsoever.
- The UAMS computer network is monitored at all times to deter and identify attempts to change or upload unauthorized information or otherwise cause damage. Unauthorized activities are strictly prohibited and will result in disciplinary action deemed appropriate by the UAMS student handbook, UAMS faculty and staff handbooks, and UAMS personnel policy.

- At times, http requests on the UAMS server are logged for statistical purposes. This process follows Privacy Act information guidelines, and does not collect information such as name and address.
- UAMS does not use “cookies” to track sites visited by users or to collect personal information. Cookies are small files that store information during web applications. The use of cookies makes pages of frequently viewed sites upload at a faster rate. Cookies also store personal information entered in online forms or at “log-in” sites. Cookies used during any user session are deleted at the end of that session. To prevent cookies from being stored on UAMS computers, users should log completely out after every session.
- While UAMS AHEC-SW Library must comply with law enforcement and legal investigations of users, all user information remains private until ordered by a court to surrender information pertaining to said user.
